

George Allan McPherson

September 22, 1956 - December 17, 2025

George McPherson passed away peacefully at his home in Tonasket, Washington, surrounded by the comfort of familiar walls and a life well lived.

George was a man you didn't soon forget. Known for his charismatic personality and natural charm, he had a gift for conversation and a talent for storytelling that could captivate any room. He loved to travel, always eager for the next adventure, and he had a deep affection for animals, treating them as family wherever he went. Confident and persuasive, George could sell you just about anything — often with a wink, a smile, and a story to go along with it.

Above all else, George was a charmer with a laugh that was impossible to ignore and even harder to forget. Those who knew him can still hear that ridiculous, unmistakable laugh echoing in their memories — a sound that perfectly captured his joy for life and his ability to make others smile.

George is survived by his beloved wife, Merril-Lynn McPherson, and his three sons, Jonathan McPherson, Jason McPherson, and Robert McPherson, who will forever carry his stories, humor, and larger-than-life spirit with them.

A celebration of George's life will be held at a later date, where family and friends will gather to share stories, laughter, and memories — just the way

George would have wanted.
