

Joseph Frank Truax

July 19, 1956 - December 24, 2022

Joseph Frank Truax of Okanogan, WA passed December 24th 2022 at the Loup Loup Ski Hill.

Joe was born to Pauline (Schneider) and Frank Truax on July 19th 1956.

Joe loved the outdoors, with water and snow skiing being his passion. He loved the mountains, music, plants, anything with a motor and dogs. He loved learning, he studied several religions and all history. He was an avid rock and crystal collector and researched astrology. He enjoyed his morning Christian Rock Station.

Joe was a carpenter by trade yet truly a jack of all trades. He could fix anything or would figure out how to. He worked all over Washington and back East in Wisconsin, Georgia, and Florida. He also worked for the Forest Service and the Omak Post Office.

Joe is survived by two brothers, Jon Evans of Okanogan; Tom (Char) Truax of Soap Lake; two sisters, Connie Friebus (Bill Tugaw) of Okanogan and Jill McCandless of East Wenatchee; numerous nieces and nephews and the love of his life, Deanne Konsack.

Joe was preceded in death by his parents and special brother-in-law Paul

Friebus.

Joe was a special being... smart, empathetic and compassionate. He had a great smile and loved to make people laugh. He enjoyed telling stories of his pranks and their shock value. He is missed by all family and friends.

A Celebration of Joe's life will be held 1:00 PM, May 21st 2023 at the Conconully Cemetery with a potluck to follow at the Conconully State Park at the smaller gazebo.
